Subject: Consideration of Appeal Regarding the Charter School Facility Grant Program for Valley Charter Elementary School

Background: In July 2015, staff of the California School Finance Authority (CSFA) began the California School Facility Grant Program (SB740) 2014-15 true-up process for all 2014-15 eligible schools. Through the true-up review process, the actual facility costs and current year P-2 Average Daily Attendance (ADA) documents are reviewed to determine the remainder of the charter school's award, or amount owed back to the program.

After completing the true-up process, in October 2015, CSFA determined Valley Charter Elementary School (VCE) (CDS #19647330122754) was ineligible due to Education Code, Section 47614.5(c)(2)(A) or (B). At that time, the FRPM eligibility threshold was 60% for charter schools relying on their own FRPM and 70% for those schools relying on the FRPM of an elementary school in their attendance area. The California Department of Education (CDE) verified VCE's free or reduced priced meal (FRPM) percentage of 28.41%, and VCE's local elementary school, Gledhill Street Elementary ("Gledhill") (CDS #19647336017289) FRPM of 67.06%. Therefore, VCE did not meet either of the FRPM eligibility thresholds. Given the October FRPM data and staff's finding, CSFA notified the school by email on October 22, 2015 of its ineligibility and requested the school's 2014-15 apportionment of $130,788.38 be returned to the program.

In December 2015, CSFA received an Appeal from VCE claiming "the 2014-15 FRPM data provided by the California Department of Education (CDE) for Gledhill Street Elementary ("Gledhill") and used by CSFA staff to make their determination that Valley is ineligible for SB 740 funding, was based on inaccurate and corrupted data supplied by Los Angeles Unified School District ('LAUSD')." The supporting documentation included in the Appeal cited that, "Gledhill's FRPM has remained around 75.64% for the previous 10 years. LAUSD recognized issues with its attendance database, My Integrated Student Information System (MiSiS), but claimed these issues were rectified prior to submitting the information to California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS)."

Notwithstanding the Appeal, VCE submitted a check to CSFA for $130,788.38 in response to CSFA's notice on October 22, 2015 requesting repayment of funds already disbursed for 2014-15. VCE's Appeal requests that CSFA disburse all funds based on a determination of eligibility, including, but not limited to, repayment to VCE of the funds that VCE previously repaid to CSFA.

Subsequent to VCE's appeal, CSFA researched and responded to the school on January 20, 2016. Staff reviewed the information provided by VCE, as well as Gledhill, sent the information provided by the school to LAUSD for feedback, and contacted CDE/CALPADS to inquire if this issue has been reported by other schools or districts and, if so, had there been an impact on FRPM data. To date, CSFA has not received a response from LAUSD, and the CDE Data Reporting Office has no record of VCE, other schools, or LAUSD reporting such anomalies.

Despite efforts made by the school and its advocates, the FRPM data has neither been revised nor has an explanation been provided regarding MiSiS and any reporting anomalies. Pursuant to Section 10170.2(l) of the SB 740 Regulations, CSFA must use FRPM data as reported by the CDE and certified through the annual Fall 1 data submission to CALPADS. At this time, CSFA has no further recourse to address the concerns raised by VCE, and has determined that its finding of ineligibility should stand.

Issue / Appeal: Below are specific events and facts related to VCE's appeal to the CSFA board for review and consideration:

- In compliance with SB 740 Regulations, in February 2016, CSFA received an Appeal to the CSFA Board from VCE regarding its decision to uphold VCE's ineligibility for SB740 funding for the 2014-15 year. In conjunction with its appeal, VCE submitted a California Public Records Act (PRA) request to LAUSD for certain records regarding the number of students or percentage of students eligible for FRPM at Gledhill during the 2014-15 school year.
- On February 26, 2016, CSFA noticed the appeal item on its agenda for its March 9, 2016 board meeting.
- On March 7, 2016, CSFA received a request from VCE, to hold the appeal until LAUSD responded to the PRA request.
- On May 27, 2016, CSFA received a revised appeal which included LAUSD's responses and additional enrollment data for Gledhill.
- VCE requested that the appeal be placed on the CSFA June 2016 agenda.
- VCE cites the following issues in its appeal to the Board:
    - Appellant's Exhibit F (attached) purports to demonstrate Gledhill experienced a significant drop in FRPM during the 2014-15 fiscal year.
    - According to LAUSD, of the students who were enrolled in both 2013-14 and 2014-15, a portion of students submitted an FRPM application for 2013-14 but not for 2014-15 (see Appellant's Exhibit H), though potentially eligible for both years.
    - The appeals included several pages form Gledhill's 2014-15 Master Student Lists. The appeal argues LAUSD's information as reported in Appellant's Exhibit H conflicts with the 2014-15 Master Student Lists and has student counts lower than the school reported: 180 reported by LAUSD, and 196 reported by the school.
    - The Appeal further argues SB740 Regulations are too restrictive and the Emergency Regulations passed March of 2015 did not permit VCE "sufficient time to address and remedy any potential inaccuracies in the CALPADS data."

CSFA Staff Response:

- Since CSFA began administering the SB740 Program in October of 2013, the SB740 Program Regulations have consistently defined FRPM as "the percentage of enrolled students who are eligible for free or reduced-price meals, as reported by the [California Department of Education.]"[1]

[1] 2013 SB740 Program emergency Regulations Approved by the Board November 13, 2013

    - Emergency Regulations passed March 2015 provided further clarification in regards to identifying the report provided by CDE as the CALPADS. These regulations were approved by the CSFA board, and approved by the Office of Administrative Law.
- The Regulation changes made in March 2015 did not impact VCE's eligibility as the prior regulations also required data as reported by CDE.
- Appellant requests CSFA "give less weight to the FRPM counts that LAUSD supplied to CDE and more weight to the FRPM counts contained in the October 2014 through May 2015 Master Students Lists." CSFA does not have the means or authority to determine or certify this raw FRPM data.
- According to the CDE Data Reporting Office, both school districts and schools "received a 'private preview' during the CALPADS amendment window, which is the appropriate time to resolve any data reporting inaccuracies." In this case, VCE and Gledhill, along with all other California districts and schools, had 6 months, "from October 7, 2015 to March 18, 2016 to submit, review, correct, and certify these data."[2] The CDE Data Reporting Office has no record of VCE or Gledhill attempting to challenge or correct the 2014-15 CALPADS data.
- Appellant requests "for purposes of accuracy and actual eligibility," CSFA Board find VCE's non-certified documentation sufficient to reverse CSFA Staff's final determination.
    - CDE representatives expressed grave concern that allowing such corrections of the CALPADS data, "undermines the legitimacy of the data collection and certification process."

Program/State Impact: CSFA currently determines the school's FRPM using exclusively the certified data provided by CALPADS and has done so since it began administering the SB740 Program in October 2013. CDE representatives state that allowing correction of CALPADS data outside the amendment window "undermines the legitimacy of the data collection and certification process."[3] As CDE itself points out, NWC had an opportunity to dispute the FRPM data during the 6 month amendment window. That NWC did not choose to do so is unfortunate. However, CSFA should not undermine CDE's process for reporting and certifying FRPM data or its own by providing an alternative data source for demonstrating program eligibility.

School Impact: Should the board overturn staff's recommendation, and grant VCE's appeal, the school would receive their estimated award calculation of $174,384.75 for 2014-15. Should the board concur with staff's determination, the school would not receive the $174,384.75 they are seeking to recover through the appeal process.

Recommendation: CSFA maintains that its January 18, 2016 finding of ineligibility should stand.

SUPERINTENDENT'S WEEKLY UPDATE

Friday, January 16, 2015

Although we have a great deal of work to do, this week was an indication that we are making progress with MiSiS. Before the first day of classes, the majority of students were enrolled with complete schedules. Throughout the week, there were no significant issues with enrolling new students, placing students in courses, or taking attendance. As of yesterday morning, we had 2,148 students enrolled but without schedules; while this number is not unusual for the first week of Spring Semester, I have asked staff to continue analyzing the numbers carefully and support schools as needed to ensure that every single student is placed in the appropriate courses.

The central office facilitated the opening of the second semester by deploying several hundred additional employees to schools according to anticipated need. The Chief Deputy Superintendent and I visited several schools and regularly checked in with the MiSiS team. The additional support was well received by school staff.

While this week represents progress, we have not lost focus on the many challenges still facing the District. Schools need more reliable and efficient customer support from MiSiS staff, the District needs to reduce the substantial backlog of attendance data from the Fall Semester, and our staff members need to continue correcting data inaccuracies. These steps will get us closer to the goal of having all students enrolled in the appropriate courses, prepared to graduate college and career ready.

Superintendent Ramon C. Cortines

Key Updates and Highlights

Attendance

- We continue to help schools address the backlog of attendance records; this is imperative, as it will enable us to claim critical revenue.

English Learners

- There is currently a bug that generates inaccurate English Learner counts for schools; when this is fixed, schools will be able to submit accurate data to the California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS).
- By early February MiSiS should allow schools to reclassify students accurately; schools should continue monitoring reclassification eligibility and assigning students to the correct classes even as the system is being updated.

Enrollment

- The team is working on enhancements to reduce the number of clicks needed to enroll students who recently transferred from other LAUSD schools.

Gifted and Talented Education (GATE)

- We are on track to provide reports and notifications of student eligibility for gifted programs to schools and parents/guardians on schedule.

Graduation Standards

- An enhancement is being put into the system, which will allow secondary schools to print cumulative record labels.

Scheduling

- Two reports—Student Sections and Student Schedule Summary—were updated to include courses taken at magnet centers or off site; students no longer need to manage multiple schedules.
- A new Add or Drop Report was released allowing counselors to print records for students' changing classes.

Upcoming Milestones

- The District needs to provide official notifications of 14-15 reclassifications.
- Elementary schools will have their second reporting period for grades in February.
- Secondary schools will administer the California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE) in February.
- We are preparing to submit accurate data to CALPADS in February.
- Schools will be completing master schedules between March and May.
- Schools will be planning summer school schedules in April.

SUPERINTENDENT'S WEEKLY UPDATE

Friday, February 27, 2015

I cannot say enough about how much I appreciate the MiSiS team's ongoing collaboration with schools, educational service centers, and administrative offices. Not only have these efforts facilitated improvement of MiSiS, but they have yielded valuable insight about the need for more effective training and support around educational policies.

As an example, the MiSiS team has been working closely with a sample of four large secondary schools to review the accuracy of student transcripts one-by-one. This process has revealed the need for better training and support on the rules governing course credit, graduation standards, and college and university eligibility. At the same time, the process has assured us that many of the technical problems with student transcripts have been resolved.

I look forward to continued lessons learned and action steps following efforts like these. As a team, we will provide our students with everything they need to graduate college prepared and career ready.

Superintendent Ramon C. Cortines

Key Updates and Highlights

Attendance

- This week, schools continued to make steady progress reducing the attendance backlog. There are now approximately 630 schools (or 70%) that have zero to minimal attendance backlog and are taking attendance correctly for every student in every class period.

Grades

- Given that elementary schools are preparing for parent-teacher conferences, we are aiming to make some critical updates to elementary report card functioning ahead of schedule.

English Learners

- Availability of English Learner rosters is the one major item remaining before schools can begin reclassifying students in MiSiS.

Enrollment

- The team performed some fine-tuning to improve student search screens, allowing office staff to locate students more quickly during walk-in enrollment processes.

Gifted and Talented Education (GATE)

- Employees can now search for GATE-eligible students by educational service center or from a range of referral dates; search results now show ethnicity and language classification for each student.

Scheduling

- The Courses and Individual Request screens were enhanced to display sortable columns for grade span, credits earned, and A-G requirements. Schools can use this information to select the appropriate courses when building master schedules and assigning classes to students.

Upcoming Milestones

- February 19 to March 6 – Second reporting period for elementary grades
- March 1-31 – Schools are preparing for fall 2015 master scheduling, which can begin once 2015-16 instructional calendar is approved
- March 6 – Certification deadline for California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS)
- March 10 – Smarter Balanced Testing begins at most schools
- March 12-20 – Mid-term for spring; most summer school enrollment begins during this period
- March 17 & 18 – March California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE) administration

SUPERINTENDENT'S WEEKLY UPDATE

Friday, March 6, 2015

No programmatic effort can succeed unless there is effective communication with all stakeholders. Recognizing this, the MiSiS team has been working closely with a Communications Taskforce—including the Office of Communications and Media Relations—to carry out a comprehensive communications management plan. The strategy is to promote consistent and timely communications among the project team, MiSiS business owners (those who shape and implement policies involving student information), MiSiS users, and the general public. Communications activities will include some that you are familiar with—such as the weekly update you are reading now—as well as new efforts to fill communications gaps.

An important example of this work is the updated MiSiS website released this week, which provides a more visual and user-friendly experience while highlighting some of the human faces behind MiSiS. The new website serves as a gateway for a variety of information needs, including general information about the project, updates on fixes and enhancements, training opportunities, and—perhaps most importantly—tools our employees can use to discuss MiSiS with their peers or to let us know how we're doing.

I encourage you to review the new website at http://misis.lausd.net, ask questions, offer suggestions, and let us know whether your experiences with MiSiS are getting better or if they are falling short. This tool—among others we are shaping—plays an important role in facilitating our work as a team, ultimately providing what we need to support our students.

Superintendent Ramon C. Cortines

Key Updates and Highlights

System Performance

- There was brief unplanned downtime on Thursday morning due to a technical issue with supporting equipment. Although our technicians were able to resolve the problem in 30 minutes, investigations into the cause of the downtime are ongoing in effort to improve the integrity of the system and reduce the chances of unplanned outages going forward.

English Learners

- Schools can now use MiSiS to reclassify and print parent notification letters for English Learners in grades 2 through 5 and 10 through 12. Reclassifying students in grades 6 through 9 is not yet available in MiSiS, as the process is dependent in part on a reading assessment managed by a vendor. We are working closely with the vendor on data transfer issues needed to reclassify those students.

Grades

- Elementary teachers have successfully entered over seven million grades during the current grading window.
- The team corrected a problem early in the week that had prevented teacher comments from translating into the correct home languages on student report cards; all report cards—including comments—are now provided to parents in the correct home languages.

Enrollment

- Schools are now able to see the correct Guardian Information in the Student Transfer Form and the Student Profile.

Gifted and Talented Education (GATE)

- Schools can now view columns for Highly Gifted and Highly Gifted Applicable in GATE search results.

Attendance

- There are approximately 660 schools (roughly 75%) that have zero to minimal attendance backlog and are taking attendance correctly for every student in every class period.
- Remaining schools have made steady progress in addressing the attendance backlog; the District-wide backlog has dropped 18% in the last two weeks.

Scheduling

- The scheduling team is working to improve the master scheduling process for the 2015-2016 school year and working closely with the training team to incorporate the revised process into upcoming trainings.
- The 2015-2016 school calendar year will be open for master scheduling after the Board of Education approves the school calendar.

Upcoming Milestones

- March 6 – The second reporting period for elementary grades ends today.
- March 6 – Today is the certification deadline for California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS).
- March 10 – Master scheduling for 2015-16 begins (pending Board approval of the 2015-16 calendar).
- March 10 – Smarter Balanced Testing begins at most schools.
- March 12-20 – Mid-term for spring; most summer school enrollment begins during this period.
- March 17 & 18 – The March California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE) is administered.

Report: LAUSD's MiSiS flawed from the get-go, called 'not feasible'

By Thomas Himes , Los Angeles Daily News

DailyNews.com

A tech expert hired to evaluate Los Angeles Unified's now notorious record-keeping system, MiSiS, issued a scathing report Thursday, faulting everything from the decision to model the system after one used by a far smaller school district to insufficient efforts to fix data problems that led to erroneous student records.

Arnold Viramontes, a former high-level tech expert for two school districts in Texas, said the problems that have plagued MiSiS from the get-go continue to pose issues. He was hired by LAUSD in September at a cost of up to $73,500.

"There are many reasons why the current project plan is not feasible unless it is modified to reflect the dynamics of the implementation," his report states.

The system is still hampering educators, failing for a second time this week on Thursday. It was shut down for work from 12:30 p.m. to 1 p.m. because educators were "unable to log in, take attendance, enter grades and perform other critical school functions," according to an email the district sent to employees Thursday afternoon.

Thursday's failure came on the heels of Tuesday's meltdown, which forced LAUSD to push back elementary school report cards by one week to Nov. 14. The delay caused problems for parents and teachers who planned to have report cards in hand for conferences next week.

Former Superintendent John Deasy plowed ahead with launching the all-purpose record-keeping software at the start of the school year, ignoring the repeated warnings of teachers, principals and counselors who said it was not ready, as reported first by this news organization.

Board member Bennett Kayser warned Deasy in a July 21 letter that the system was causing numerous problems at Bell High School, which operates on a year-round schedule.

After reviewing Viramontes' report, Kayser expressed outrage at Deasy's disregard for problems the system was causing and repeated efforts to deceive the public and his elected bosses on the school board.

"From ignoring multiple warnings, including my own, to deceiving board members and the public with misinformation about the severity of the crisis, Deasy left us with a big, expensive mess to clean-up," Kayser said in a written statement. "I am, along with the students, parents and district employees who have been adversely affected, furious."

After repeated requests by this news organization about the scope of problems caused by MiSiS, LAUSD released an Aug. 15 statement claiming "less than 1 percent of students overall were affected" by system glitches. It remains unclear how such a claim could be made considering the system could not accurately track students. Deasy abruptly resigned last month under scrutiny for his handling of MiSiS and another tech fiasco involving efforts to put iPads in classrooms.

While Deasy made the final decision to launch MiSiS, Viramontes notes leadership of the project ignored "red" conditions in recommending to move forward.

The report notes that building such software from scratch requires coordination, but the decision to modify software used by a far smaller school district, Fresno Unified School District, added a “different layer of complexity.” According to the report, LAUSD is about 10 times larger than Fresno.

LAUSD spokeswoman Lydia Ramos stated Oct. 23 that using Fresno’s system provided two “key advantages” — the program can be modified because it’s owned by the district, and “it provides a solution that has already been deployed and used successfully in a large urban California school district.”

Educators who spoke on the condition of anonymity have said a key problem with MiSiS is that it searches across all of LAUSD’s 650,000 students each time a counselor tries to do something as simple as bring up a transcript. The previous system would confine searches to a single school. After a lengthy wait time, MiSiS manages to locate student records. But even if the name and identification number displayed are accurate, course schedules for a different student can appear.

The integrity of data and student records continues to pose a problem for the educators of LAUSD, but the report found “there was no evidence suggesting a detailed plan for data integrity.”

Other issues included a lack of clear management responsibility. As noted by an earlier report from a court-appointed monitor tasked with reporting on the district’s effort to build the system and fulfill a 1993 lawsuit that required it to identify and educate special education students, the project manager didn’t have control over important aspects of the project, including quality assurance to test the system and training to ensure educators could use it.

Ron Chandler abruptly resigned his post atop the district’s technology department last week because of the program’s problems. Also last week, MiSiS project manager Bria Jones had her contract terminated.

LAUDS’s efforts to help educators overwhelmed by the faulty system and returning students were also inadequate, according to the report, which notes more calls were “abandoned” by employees working a hotline than answered. Additionally, the help-desk employees never reported back to educators who needed assistance, according to the report.

The partnership with Microsoft that developed MiSiS — “mired with software bugs and missed functionality” — needs an “effective communications model.” According to the report, Microsoft used both “off shore” and on-site resources as a contractor working on the project.

LAUSD decided to hasten MiSiS’s deployment, which was originally set for 2015-16, leaving just one year to develop the software.

Out of a $29-million budget that was supposed to be spent over two years, only $10 million was used by the end of year one. Additionally a $1.5-million contingency fund sat untapped.

“There is little evidence that timelines and expectations were modified and communicated,” according to the report’s review of communication efforts between LAUSD and Microsoft.

In starting to clean up the mess, new Superintendent Ramon Cortines this week called on Microsoft’s top executives to send help. It is one of a number of measures Cortines has undertaken to fix the problem since stepping in to replace Deasy.

“I want you to know that we have already made some changes to address the issues in this first report by Arnold Viramontes, and will continue to work to resolve the problems until we have a fully functioning student information system to serve the students, parents and employees of the Los Angeles Unified School District,” Cortines stated.

Crisis With LAUSD's Computer System Could End Up Costing District Millions In State Funding

http://losangeles.cbslocal.com/2015/01/14/crisis-with-lausds-misis-system-could-end-up-costing-district-millions-in-state-funding/

January 14, 2015 7:26 PM

LOS ANGELES (CBSLA.com) — The LAUSD's many woes with its new MISIS could end up costing the district million of dollars in state funding.

There have been well-documented problems with the My Integrated Student Information System from the start with keeping records, grades and enrollment numbers.

CBS2's Laurie Perez reports that the glitch with attendance records is what has the district most concerned.

LAUSD admits the computerized student records system has had many flaws, including system performance, problems with the program code and a lack of user training, leading to what they call backlogs of attendance records.

The district could not provide CBS2/KCAL9 with a current attendance figure, saying as a backup, some teachers have been taking attendance by hand.

The problem is the state will look for an actual attendance figure this spring.

LAUSD gets most of its funding from the state, and how much it gets depends on how many students there are. If the system hasn't accurately recorded every student, it's conceivable the district could lose funding.

In a report to the school board Tuesday, the district CFO said that partly because of the record keeping problems, enrollment numbers will drop. It's estimated each 3 percent loss in enrollment equals a loss of about $100 million.

The CFO reportedly said the LAUSD's numbers could drop by as much as 16 percent, which would add up to more than $500 million.

"That would be beyond tragic; it would be catastrophic for the district's funding," said Scott Folsom, a member of the California State PTA.

Folsom says even if the district gets a waiver from attendance reporting this year, he has concerns that funding won't be exact.

"The state is entitled to good numbers from us," Folsom said.

The district has not said if it will apply for a waiver.

The problem with MISIS for students is having a more immediate effect.

Student Bryan Rodriguez tried to take algebra last semester, and it led to a real-life word problem.

He says because of MISIS bugs, he was reassigned to a math class 10 times with different teachers and different periods.

In the end, when he got his grades yesterday, he got no grades for algebra.

“Just question mark … question mark,” Rodriguez said.

“But you were in that class? Perez asks. “Yes,” he replied.

“And you did all the work,” she says. To which he replied, “Yes.”

He didn’t get a grade or credit, as if he were never in the class at all.

LAUSD to spend two more years and $133.6 million fixing MiSiS

By Thomas Himes , Los Angeles Daily News

DailyBreeze.com

The Los Angeles Unified School District will spend the next two years rebuilding its problem-plagued record-keeping system, MiSiS, as the computer software's costs skyrocket to more than $133.6 million.

District officials rushed to launch the software in August, leading to widespread problems with transcripts, attendance reports, class schedules and other vital records.

While quick fixes helped place students in the proper classrooms and restored some functionality months into the school year, the makeshift repairs need to be unraveled before MiSiS works properly, said Diane Pappas, chief advisor to the superintendent.

"There's been a lot of short cuts and fixes to the system that weren't done in the most appropriate way, so now we have to do an awful lot of clean up," Pappas said. "This system will be pretty much rebuilt by the time we get done."

Part of the trouble is district officials decided to model MiSiS after a system used by Fresno Unified. But LAUSD, the state's largest school district with more than 600,000 students, needs to keep records for about eight times as many students as Fresno Unified.

Over the next 12 months, Pappas said the district will focus on restoring "basic functionality." Bugs in the system's ability to track attendance — records the state uses to allocate funding — and reports that educators need to review essential information about students will be priorities, Pappas said.

"It will be substantially better than it is now, but it will not be complete," Pappas said.

During the following year, Pappas said the district will concentrate on creating features that were requested by educators and enhancing user-friendliness.

The project's cost has grown by more than five times its original budget to $133.6 million from the $25 million that district officials initially anticipated paying.

A committee appointed by school board members to oversee the district's spending of bond dollars this week approved a request to spend an additional $79.6 million, up from the project's current budget of $54 million.

But the additional $79.6 million will only include the cost of restoring basic functions over the next 12 months, while more money will be needed the following year to add functionality requested by educators.

Last year, Superintendent Ramon Cortines was prepared to request an additional $71 million for fixing the system he inherited from his predecessor. The additional dollars would have brought MiSiS' price tag to $98 million, but Cortines later decided to request smaller allocations of bond funding, as work on the system progressed.

District officials said in a statement this week they have restructured their contract with Microsoft -— a key contractor working on MiSiS — to withhold full payment "until functions are working at schools."

Aside from the cost of building MiSiS, LAUSD earmarked $11 million in emergency funds to help pay for manpower needed to manually review records, place students in the proper classes and ensure the system didn't stop seniors from graduating.

MiSiS' next test will come in August, when students arrive at campuses for the new school year. At the start of this school year, educators were left without the ability to enroll students, because MiSiS malfunctioned under the load of thousands of educators trying to access records at the same time. While may campuses reverted to paper forms last used decades ago, scheduling and enrolling students without software caused numerous issues.

Some students were stranded inside the wrong classes for several weeks, as counselors worked nights and weekends trying to access the system during off-peak hours.

While the start of the second semester went comparatively smoothly, the first week of school provides unique challenges as students attempt to transfer schools and enroll at the last minute.

"We're doing everything possible to make sure we have a smooth opening of the school year," Pappas said.

Rationale for classroom count/allocation revisions

District set aside 21,22, 23, 24, 34,35 are used for North SC staff devlopment. Principal states that six rooms are scheduled to be removed in December of 2014.

I have reviewed and understand the assessment of the capacity and allocation of seats at my school. I understand that this information will be shared with other LAUSD offices, to be used in the assessment of future campus needs and utilization.

Rationale for classroom count/allocation revisions

: FIRST COMMENT: 9/28/2015 10:26:48 AM
: Six rooms are scheduled to be removed in November 2015. They are still in the total count but a scheduled to go. Room count changed to show that one room that was counted as small is actually standard.

I have reviewed and understand the assessment of the capacity and allocation of seats at my school. I understand that this information will be shared with other LAUSD offices, to be used in the assessment of future campus needs and utilization.
