DAVID BRODSLY

Managing Director

KNN Public Finance

Berkeley, CA

dbrodsky@knninc.com

David Brodsky is a Managing Director at KNN Public Finance and a registered municipal advisor. Over the past 24 years, he has served as financial advisor to several cities in California, ranging in size from Gridley, with a population of 6,561, to the City of Los Angeles, with a population of 3.9 million, as well as various counties, special districts, state agencies and educational districts throughout California. Prior to joining KNN in 1998, Mr. Brodsky was a vice president and senior credit officer with Moody's Ratings in San Francisco and was a member of Moody's National Rating Committee. His specialties included lease financing, water revenue finance, and redevelopment.

Mr. Brodsky began his career with the City of Los Angeles, where for twelve years he was responsible for financial planning, debt issuance, and bond administration for general government departments. Among his achievements were creating the City's leasing corporation, the Municipal Improvements Corporation of Los Angeles; resurrecting a general obligation bond program after a long hiatus following the passage of Proposition 13; financing the expansion of the city's convention center and central library; and issuing judgment bonds to finance major adverse court rulings.

Mr. Brodsky is a graduate of the University of California, Santa Cruz, with a degree in modern society and social thought and is the author of a book on Los Angeles, L.A. Freeway: An Appreciative Essay, published by UC Press.

DEBRA WAGNER SAUNDERS

Consultant, BondLink
Consultant, U.S. Department of Energy
El Cerrito, CA
dsaunders@bondlink.com

Debra Saunders has over 40 years of experience in the municipal market across a wide range of sectors on both the credit and origination sides. Currently, Ms. Saunders is consulting with BondLink, an innovative technology platform that can transform issuers' investor relations and bond issuance processes.

Prior to BondLink, Ms. Saunders served as a lead banker in Citi's Northern California public finance office, representing Citi for prominent State and local issuers including the States of Oregon, California, New Mexico and Utah; the cities and counties of Sacramento, San Francisco, Alameda, San Mateo, Redwood, and Oakland in California, as well as Bountiful and Ogden in Utah; and local agencies including the Alameda County Transportation Authority, the Bay Area Transportation Authority, and Bay Area Rapid Transit. Ms. Saunders also led the region's efforts on implementing various enhancements in Citi's credit agency approach as well as models for simulating rating agency scorecards.

Ms. Saunders began her career as a credit analyst at Ambac, a bond insurer, where she ultimately led the West Region, specializing in state and local government financing, complex project financings, and unique California issuances. Ms. Saunders then brought her California and credit expertise to Fidelity Capital Markets, the brokerage arm of Fidelity Investments. Ms. Saunders opened and ran Fidelity's California investment banking office and helped issuers promote retail distribution and access Fidelity's vast pool of retail investors. Ms. Saunders' work at Fidelity included working with local representatives and retail investors to provide educational events and papers on the municipal bond market.
